

Transparency in Coverage Final Rule

On July 1, 2022, Meritian Health will publish machine-readable files on our website in compliance with the Transparency in Coverage Final Rule. Once posted, you'll be able to access them through this link.

The publicly accessible files will include medical in-network rates and out-of-network allowed amounts for Meritian Health and national networks.

It is important to note that the machine-readable files will not appear until the files are populated some time on July 1. If you click on the link before the data is released, you will be routed to MyCare Finder, our provider finder tool.

Employers may post the URL on their sites for users to access. The data files will be updated on the first of every month.

Machine-readable files are a digital representation of data or information that can be imported or read into a computer system for further processing. The data is not meaningful at first glance without that process.

Meritian Health will not charge for use of the machine-readable files posted on our site. Those who wish to interpret the data will need to process and evaluate it on their own or use a third party vendor.
